

It's easy to volunteer with the Eviction Legal Helpline

- ✦ Huge need and immediate impact
- ✦ Very flexible, fully remote, low commitment
- ✦ Excellent training, supervision, and support

What is the Eviction Legal Helpline?

- Provides free, accurate legal information and advice to tenants facing eviction
- Serves tenants throughout Virginia
- Enables tenants to make better decisions, avoid eviction, and maintain stable housing

The Helpline has served thousands of our neighbors since 2019. As COVID-responsive tenant protections expire this year, its services are more needed than ever.

How do volunteer attorneys participate?

- Simply log onto the Helpline's case management system from home or office
- Select a case from those awaiting advice and review it
- Call and advise the client based on the Helpline's excellent training and reference materials

Helpline staff review all cases to ensure the advice was appropriate and handle all follow-up.

Who can volunteer?

- Attorneys licensed and in good standing with the Virginia State Bar, regardless of practice area
- Paralegals and other non-attorneys can help with intake

What is the commitment?

- Volunteer frequently or sporadically as you want
- Sign up for a flexible shift on our calendar

Helpline staff are virtually always available to answer your questions or help you troubleshoot a case.

What our volunteers say:

"An invaluable opportunity to offer hope to our neighbors in crisis."

"[Helpline support] is beyond what I thought that anybody could possibly supply to someone volunteering. ... I don't know what more anyone could ask for."

What our clients say:

"I DID IT!!!! I got [the eviction] stopped all thanks to you and your help!"

"Thank you so much for all of your help! It went very well [in court] today, could not have succeeded without your guidance."
